TAXES-TAXES-TAXES

Approximately 30 homeowners filed property tax appeals to the state of Illinois before the mid-July deadline. Hopefully, these appeals will result in some tax relief for our area. I just called the state and they told me it would probably be September before we get a letter in response to our appeals at which time the county will have 30 days to make a decision. So for now, you need to go ahead and pay those taxes. If the appeal is in your favor, then the county can either give you a refund or credit next year's taxes.
