Towanda Library News

The 4-week computer/Internet course for seniors is going very well! Students are becoming more familiar with the computer as they work on individual laptop computers. Among other things, they have all set up their own e-mail accounts. If you missed this session, look for another to be offered in the next 6 months or so.

The library is happy to announce another volunteer at the library. Indian Creek resident Tina Krause is working on a book covering project! Thank you, Tina!

Soon magazine subscriptions will be renewed. If you know of magazine titles you would like to see in the library, please let them know.

There are books on cassette tape for you to check out at the library. Would you like to see them on CD as well? If you have a preference for this format, let Mary Williams at the library know. They will explore purchasing the CDs as the need arises.

Thanks to Sheila Donald, a library trustee, the library received a $500 grant from State Farm in addition to all the hours she has donated to the library. State Farm also donated several pieces of furniture including upholstered chairs to replace the folding chairs.
